Anna Charlotte Atelier

Anna Charlotte's Fjärden soft furnishing collection is named after the Swedish word for a small archipelago. As can be seen in the handmade Swirls rug, it draws inspiration from water elements. www.annacharlotteatelier.com

Sunnei x cc-tapis

While the prototype debuted at Milan Fashion Week 2024, the collection was first on show during Design Week. Clothing brand Sunnei's rugs for cc-tapis are made in Milan, robotufted in Econyl® nylon yarns. www.cc-tapis.com

Edelgrund

With its fresh colourways, the Chador collection, made in Iran by Edelgrund, is inspired by traditional siah chador tents used by nomadic tribes in Iran. www.edelgrund.com

Helena Rohner x GAN

Handloomed in India, the Weave collection by Helena Rohner for GAN uses different types of mathematical sequences to create a collage of textures and geometric patterns. www.gan-rugs.com

New rugs

Blues and peaches are the hues of the season as these sixteen rugs demonstrate

The Rug Company

Rêverie Blonde is one of four rugs from the new Collage collection by The Rug Company, which is inspired by abstract art and contemporary colours and motifs. Rêverie is available in three colourways. www.therugcompany.com

Zanellato/Bortotto x Saba Italia

Cime is a new handmade carpet collection designed by Zanellato/Bortotto for Saba Italia. Made by Mariantonio Urru using the Sardinian pibiones technique, the carpets pay homage to Venetian fishermen's families with symbols and colours reminiscent of Chioggia. www.sabaitalia.com

V&A x Brintons

After the success of The Design Discoveries collection—a collaboration between Agnella by Brintons and the V&A—which first launched in 2023, there are now 15 new designs drawn from the V&A archive, including Kelp in Mint (above). www.brintons.co.uk

Pininfarina x Sahrai Milano

Materia is the collaborative collection of three rugs designed by Pininfarina for Sahrai Milano. Idea, Luce and Acqua (right) are hand-tufted in bamboo silk and New Zealand wool. www.sahrai.com

Patrick Jouin iD x Lelievre

The idea behind the designs in the Rain collection by Patrick Jouin iD for Lelievre came from paint drips on canvas. The three shapes and three colourways are hand-knotted in New Zealand wool. www.lelievreparis.com

Ward + Gray

NYC-based firm Ward + Gray is launching its second rug collection titled The Blues. The five hand-knotted 100% Ghazni wool designs include Checkmate, Iris, Megikat (right), Rolling Hitch and Spellbound. wardandgray.com

Samad

New to the Nordic collection by Samad is Axel Ivory. Hand-knotted with New Zealand wool, the Nordic rugs have offer great texture. See the design at COVER Connect New York in September. www.samad.com

Cold Picnic

The hand-tufted Audience / Embrace collection by Cold Picnic—including Embrace blue (above)—looks at anthropomorphic qualities we often attribute to our living spaces. www.coldpicnic.com

Matilde Burkard x Fort Street Studio

Fort Street Studio's collaborative projects with innovative contemporary artists open with Passage and Genesis (left) by Paris-based designer and illustrator Mathilde Burkard. fortstreetstudio.com

Jensin Okunishi Studio

The patterns of the Monuments collection by Japan-based Jensin Okunishi look at the geometric shapes created by giant building structures. The three designs are hand-knotted in Himalayan wool in Nepal. jensinokunishistudio.com

S&H Rugs

This hand-knotted sari silk rug by S&H Rugs, takes transitional patterns to a new level. The colours really pop against a neutral background while the silk adds a fantastic lustre to the overall design. www.shrugs.com

Lyk Carpet

Gibraltar to Málaga is the first hand-knotted rug from Lyk Carpet's new Coastline collection, which allows customers to commission a wall or floor object interpreting their favourite coastal stretch. www.lyk-carpet.de
